

Books Donation Agreement

I hereby agree to allow the National Human Rights Museum Library, in its professional judgment (in accordance with the National Human Rights Museum Library Donation Guidelines and its research, exhibition, and outreach needs), to have full authority over the disposition of the books I have donated (as listed in the donation inventory), including incorporation into the collection, donation to other organizations, exchange, disposal of damaged items, or other handling methods. I warrant that the donated books were legally acquired. Both parties agree to execute this Agreement electronically or paper document. This document serves as official confirmation.

sincerely to

The National Human Rights Museum
